

Ambassador (ret.) Thomas Graham Jr.

Executive Chairman of the Board of Directors of Lightbridge Corporation from 2006 to 2022 and Chairman from 2022 to 2024. In 2024 he became Chairman Emeritus of the company and in 2025 completely retired from the company. Lightbridge is a company which develops new and improved types of nuclear power fuel. These fuels are designed to improve the economics of existing and new nuclear power plants while enhancing safety characteristics and proliferation resistance and reducing waste. Lightbridge is a U.S. company located in McLean, Virginia, listed on the NASDAQ, which has conducted its primary research and development work in the United States, Russia, and Canada. In December of 2009, Ambassador Graham was appointed to the United Arab Emirates' International Advisory Board, helping to guide that country's nuclear energy program and hold it to the highest standards of safety, security, non-proliferation, transparency and sustainability. The Board completed its mandate and was disbanded in the fall of 2016.

Ambassador Graham was also Chairman of the Board of Directors of CanAlaska Uranium Ltd. of Vancouver, Canada, a uranium exploration company. In 2024 he became Chairman Emeritus of the company while remaining a member of the Board of Directors. From July, 1997 to November, 2012 Ambassador Graham chaired the Board of Directors of Mexco Energy Corporation of Midland, Texas, an oil and gas exploration company listed on AMEX.

Internationally known as one of the leading authorities in the field of international arms control and non-proliferation, Ambassador Graham served as a senior U.S. diplomat involved in every major international arms control and non-proliferation negotiation in which the United States took part during the period 1970-1997. This includes The Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (the Interim Agreement on Strategic Offensive Arms, the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty and the SALT II Treaty), The Strategic Arms Reduction Talks (the START I Treaty and the START II Treaty), the Intermediate Range Nuclear Forces Treaty (INF), the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty extension, the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Treaty (CFE), and the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty (CTBT).

In 1993 for eleven month, Ambassador Graham served as the Acting Director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) and for seven months in 1994 served as the Acting Deputy Director. He was a major figure in the U.S. 1993 adoption of the Nuclear Weapon Test Moratorium which is now the world standard. From 1994 through 1997, he served as the Special Representative of the President for Arms Control, Non-Proliferation, and Disarmament, appointed by President Clinton and in this capacity in 1993 to 1995 led U.S. government efforts to the achievement of the permanent extension of the NPT. He also served for 15 years as the general counsel of ACDA.

He additionally served among other assignments as the Legal Advisor to the U.S. SALT II, START I, and START II Delegations and was the senior arms control agency representative to the U.S. INF Delegation and the U.S. Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Delegation.

Ambassador Graham worked on the negotiation of The Chemical Weapon Convention and The Biological Weapons Convention. He testified before Congress on the implementing legislation for the Biological Weapons Convention and co-managed the Senate approval of the ratification of the Geneva Protocol of 1926 banning the use in war of chemical and biological weapons in 1975, nearly 50 years after the signing of the Protocol by the U.S. in 1926. He also helped manage Senate consideration of the ratification of the SALT II, START I, INF and CFE Treaties. He chaired the U.S. delegation to the 1993 ABM Treaty Review Conference and the 1996 Review Conference of the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Treaty.

Ambassador Graham is a widely published author in both scholarly journals as well as significant newspapers and periodicals, for example, publishing a major article on nuclear weapon nonproliferation in the National Strategy Forum Review in 2007. A comparable article in the Baker Center Journal for Applied Public Policy at the University of Tennessee was also published in 2007. In 2008 with Ambassador Max Kampelman, Ambassador Graham published an article on the elimination of nuclear weapons in the Washington Times and an article on the Test Ban in Spectrum, the magazine of the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty Office. He also published an article with Russell Schweickart on asteroids, NASA and nuclear weapons in the March, 2008 issue of Scientific American. In the spring of 2012, the Baker Center Journal published a second article by Ambassador Graham entitled the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty under Threat: Iran and North Korea. His article, A New Pathway to Prohibiting Nuclear Testing, was published online on June 3, 2014 by WMD Junction which is edited by the Monterey Nonproliferation Review. Since 2014 Ambassador Graham has author or co-authored over 120 scholarly articles and op-eds for newspapers and magazines on nuclear non-proliferation and many other subjects.
